State Emergency Management to donate to Toys for Tots

CLANTON—The Alabama Emergency Management Agency (AEMA) Christmas luncheon will benefit a Chilton County family with three small children. During the annual luncheon toys are also being collected to donate to Toys for Tots. This is the first year the agency has partnered with Toys for Tots to make sure the children in the Chilton County area have a merry and toy-filled Christmas.

“So often people only think of our agency during a disaster, but it brings me great pleasure to know we are able to help several children and one family make their holiday a little more special,” said AEMA Director Bruce Baughman.

The Chilton County Sheriff’s Department will collect the toys at the end of luncheon.
